As we mentioned in our introduction, it is a WhatsApp feature that allows you to share videos, photos, text or GIFs with WhatsApp contacts that disappear after 24 hours. You can update the WhatsApp status, or check the WhatsApp contact states, by tapping the "Status" tab in the WhatsApp app. You will find the state card in the lower left corner of the app. Who can see your WhatsApp status? By default, your WhatsApp status can be seen from any of your contacts - meaning anyone the number you have in your phone who also has your number in their phone. However, there are privacy settings that give you more control over who can and cannot see yourState. When you're in the state card, tap "Privacy." Use "My contacts except..." to choose specific people with whom you do not want to share your status. Anyone selected will not be able to see your status. You can also use "Only Share With..." to manually select the people you want to show the status. Anyone who is not selected will not see you in their list of recent updates. You will be able to see who has seen your status, provided that the view of the person has read on receipts and you have read on receipts. According to WhatsApp FAQ, "If you have disabled read receipts, you will not be able to see who saw the status update. If a contact has disabled Read Receipts, you will not be able to see that they have displayed your status update." Here in Animoto, we believe the video is the most effective way to communicate. So, of course, we are the most excited to share videos of WhatsApp Status. Unlike Instagram Stories or Facebook Stories, which have a 15-second limit, WhatsApp Status Video can be up to 30 seconds for update. You can create your video within WhatsApp, or make a video to upload as WhatsApp status. We'll show you how to do both. Your video is recorded. If the recording clip is longer than 30 seconds, you need to choose a piece of 30 seconds. Use the icons on the top right to add emoji, stickers, text, or cut or draw on the video. Tap the button in the bottom right corner when you are done to share the video to your WhatsApp status.
